COKE AND SEE US.
HEADQUARTERS REP. STATE CENTRAL COM. Jan. 15, 1884.
The Republican State Central Committee has opened convenient and commodious headquarters on Wisconsin street, near the postoffice, in Milwaukee. All republicans, and especially those of our own state, are cordially invited to call when in the city. All republican papers published in the state, and many of the leading journals of the country, will be kept on file. Come and see us. H. C. PARKER, Sec.

The Ohio "idea" is a good one this year. There is not a Blaine kicker in the state.

It has been decided by a large majority that Blaine will make the campaign unacceptably hot for the democrats.

After this month, Mr. Blaine will be able to devote two hours each day to the second volume of his history. This will finish the work before the election.

The drift toward Cleveland is not because the democrats want him but because they can find no one else who seems to stand a ghost of a chance for an election.

Judge Parker, of Ohio, who presented Sherman's name to the national republican convention, says the Germans in Cincinnati are enthusiastic for Blaine and Logan.

The "Wild West" will do more than its share in electing James G. Blaine. For big republican majorities, a hot campaign, and no "Wild West" avoidances and crashes, the "Wild West" is peculiar.

The nearer the July convention approaches, the more inclined are the democrats to pray that Tilden's fetter may mean nothing. They would rather take a dead man well known than a live man like Cleveland who nobody knows.

The report comes from Washington that Blaine has not yet decided to take the stump, but will do so if his personal character is attacked. In that event he will make speeches in several of the larger cities of the country. He is receiving a great many letters suggesting topics to be considered in his letter of acceptance, and some of them from men who are said to be opposed to him.

A New York paper is responsible for the statement that "as severely to eighty miles an hour is a common speed for short distances between New York and Philadelphia, the proposal to go from New York to Chicago in seven hours does not seem impossible of realization, since that requires an average of only fifty-five miles. Transit much quicker than at present is certainly feasible and desirable."

Doolittle illustrated by the Philadelphia Press: "Doolittle, the stiff, starched old J. K. Doolittle, of Wisconsin, who performed the great act of sitting six years in the United States senate without letting the country know he was there—Doolittle is for Cleveland and Victory. As proof there is no conscious existence beyond the political grave, it may be mentioned that Doolittle dreams that the democrats will carry Wisconsin this year."

A clear idea of the probable result of the political contest of this year can be found before the middle of October. The order of the elections in the states is as follows: A shot-gun election in Alabama, August 4, will cast no light on the prospect, nor the election in Tennessee, August 7. Nor is it likely that Arkansas, voting September 2, will indicate much, the majority being so large that the majority will have little inducement to work. Maine, September 8, may show something of Mr. Blaine's popularity at home. The machine in Georgia will grind out what it pleases October 1. Ohio and West Virginia vote October 14, just three weeks before the presidential election. A decisive republican victory in Ohio is probable, and, following a decisive victory in Maine, would give great encouragement to the supporters of the republican ticket. Should West Virginia join Ohio in October in giving a good republican majority, as is not improbable, the doom of the democratic candidate would be sealed.

THE PENSION QUESTION.
There are propositions now before congress, to increase the pension disbursements to not far from $250,000,000. There have been fifty changes in the pension laws since 1862, each change making the law more generous. In going back it will be seen that in 1861 there were only 10,709 persons on the pension list in the United States, and the annual disbursements were less than a million dollars. In 1862 congress began to enact new pension laws to meet the exigencies created by the civil war, and at close of the conflict, or at least within a few months thereafter, there were 85,986 persons on the pension rolls, while the aggregate disbursements to the pensioners, was a little over $8,000,000.

The spirit of congress was exceedingly liberal toward ex-soldiers, and under the annual changes made in the pension laws, there were 238,411 persons on the roll in 1873, to whom the aggregate annual pay reached $26,259,000. It was then thought that everybody in the United States who was entitled to a pension was receiving one, but in 1879, when the pension law was enacted, the number of pensioners began to increase, and in 1883 the number on the roll had reached 303,168. There are now on file in Washington 244,000 applications for persons under existing laws, but probably not more than one in five or six will be allowed.

Up to June, 1883, there had been 712,486 applications made for pensions. (The entire enlistments in the army and the navy reached 2,000,000 men and boys, and the striking fact will be seen that one-third of the entire enlistment force of the great army and the navy, is drawing a pension or has applied for one.)

WHAT BLAINE STANDS FOR.
An inquiring youth down in Pennsylvania, asked his democratic father the other day if Blaine was as bad a man as the democratic papers tried to make him out to be. "Oh yes, my son," said the father, "he is one of the most dangerous men in the country."

"But what makes him such a very bad and dangerous man?" persistently inquired the son. "Why," continued the democratic father, "in the first place, he had a mother who was a Catholic, and a father who was a Presbyterian, while he is a Congregationalist. Then, again, he is a bold, shrewd man with immense influence and great ability, and in addition to that he is intensely American; intensely American."

That is the distressing rub with the free traders—he is intensely American. Then, again, the Philadelphia Times, which is opposing Blaine with all its skill and might, gives this measurement of the man: "James G. Blaine is just the sort of a presidential candidate to make things hum. He is also among the ablest; he is brilliant beyond the average of brilliant public men; he is keener in perception than any of his party rivals; he is a candidate only to win, if vast political resources and desperate effort can reach the winning post, and he will make things hum generally from Maine to California as soon as the battle opens."

This is the man Blaine. He stands for the highest and best interests of the American people.

Blaine stands for a strong, courageous, brilliant, and an American policy, by which the honor of the nation will be upheld and admired.

Blaine stands for that policy as regards diplomacy, trade and commerce, which will be intensely American—resolute, self-respecting, without the least sign of pusillanimity, war or rumors of war.

Blaine stands for that system of protection to home industries which will build up factories, establish furnaces, sustain workshops, promote agriculture, and give the working man the best possible chance in the battle of life.

Blaine stands for that broad, brilliant statesmanship and superb moral courage, and that intrepid leadership, that inspires a people and honors a government like this.

Blaine stands for all things that are progressive, honorable, and inspiring in our politics, and this is why his audacious genius is spreading so much enthusiasm among the young men of the country, and why he is popular with the great masses of republican voters from Penobscot Bay to Florida Reefs and Fort Snodgrass.

Blaine stands for that party and its principles that no opposition can create in this campaign.

DISCOUNTING AMERICAN RAILWAYS.
LONDON, June 25.—The Standard says there have undoubtedly been large defections in the ranks of the English stockholders, must unravel the tangled mass. Mr. Jewett is a perfectly square man, yet it is necessary he should abdicate in favor of youth and strength. The article also says that if holders of Western & Missouri, Kansas & Texas shares were bestirring themselves as the Erie shareholders are doing, the result would be a cleaner bill of health for those roads.

RATES ON EXHIBITS FOR CHICAGO EXPOSITION.
CHICAGO, June 25.—Commissioner Fink announces that on all exhibits forwarded to the Chicago exposition, Sept. 3 to Oct. 15, 1884, full tariff rates will be charged by the trunk line railway, but if shipped within thirty days after the close of the exposition (should they be returned free).

HE HAS PROBABLY "SAVED HER."
PROVIDENCE, June 25.—Annie Sullivan, aged 16, was seriously cut about the throat by her father, Dennis Sullivan, who said his motive was to save her from going to the town of Fall River, where her mother resided. Her recovery is doubtful. Sullivan comes from Fall River.

NATURE OF A HOTEL COMPANY.
ST. LOUIS, June 25.—The Lindell Hotel association has made an assignment to James L. Huse for the benefit of creditors. The assets and liabilities are not stated. The association is composed of Charles A. Scudler, Henry Ames and J. H. Cluesinger.

BLANKET MRS. NORTON.
BRILLIANT, June 25.—Princess Blanche is suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism, caused by exposure and over-exertion on the occasion of her recent attendance on the foreign affairs committee.

WHAT BLAINE HOPES.
BRILLIANT, June 25.—It is learned that Prince Blanche hopes to secure to the promoters of the Aquia Regatta a settlement similar to the English charges of the East India company.

CUTTING OUT THE MAY LAWS.
BERLIN, June 25.—The Reichstag has passed the bill introduced by Herr Windthorst, the clerical leader, abolishing the penalties for unauthorized exercise of clerical functions.

PROFESSOR CLEVELAND.
WATERVILLE, Me., June 25.—The Democratic district convention chose delegates to Chicago. The convention expressed a strong preference for Cleveland.

SOLDIER OF A BASE BALL MATCH.
BOSTON, June 25.—William B. Carr, a ball manufacturer, lunged himself in a fit of temporary insanity.

Twenty-two entries have already been made for the O'Leary pedestrian tournament in Chicago. Of the revenue to be arranged as to the public revenue from the tournament, instead of the usual, conducted by the Republican, demand.

IN FIVE MORE STATES.

The Democracy Gets into Line for the November Fight.

Indiana Nominates Isaac P. Gray for Governor on the First Ballot.

Delegates to Chicago and Their Preferences—Thurman and Durbin Ward Selected in Ohio—Political Comment at Washington City.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 25.—The attendance at the state Democratic convention was not as large as in years gone by. The interest was more in the issue for all that. Gen. E. R. Finkley, the temporary chairman, made the usual speech of a temporary chairman. When he mentioned the name of Tilden, it was cheered.

The committee on resolutions, through E. R. Finkley, reported the platform, declaring that the Democrats of Ohio reaffirm its platform of 1880 as follows: It endorses the principles of the party expressed in previous state and national platforms in regard to personal liberty, and we renew the previous declaration for public debt, the gradual extinction of the public debt, and payment of pensions to all disabled soldiers, their widows and orphans.

We favor a tariff for revenue, limited to the necessities of a government economically administered and so adjusted in its application as to prevent unusual burdens, encourage productive industries at home and afford just compensation to labor, but not to create or foster monopolies.

That the just demands of the wool growers of Ohio and the country for an equitable re-adjustment of the duties on wool, and we endorse the action of the Democratic members of Ohio in their efforts to accomplish this result.

Favors a graded license system for dealing with the liquor traffic, commends the abolition of contract convict labor, demands protection of American citizens abroad and at home, reaffirms the declaration of the party in 1880, '84 and '88 (state conventions), and 1876 and '80 (national conventions), on the subjects of reform in the administration of the government.

The free trade amendment to the platform, offered by Mr. Russell, of Cleveland, was voted down.

Congressman Converse offered the following addition to the platform, which was adopted with great enthusiasm and without a dissenting voice.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this convention that Samuel J. Tilden, who was once legally and fairly elected president of the United States, but deprived of his office, should receive a unanimous nomination at the hands of the Democratic convention which meets at Chicago July next.

Mr. J. Ryan, of Cincinnati, offered the following additional plank for the platform:

Resolved, That this convention instruct its delegates to urge, and request the district delegates to Chicago, to cast the vote of Ohio as a unit.

A resolution was laid on the table by a vote of yeas, 98; nays, 23. The report of the committee on resolutions was adopted with a shout.

The correspondent of the Chicago Times telegraphs his paper: "When nominations for delegates-at-large were in order, the name of John H. McLean was presented to the convention and seconded in eloquent speeches. The name of Lieut. Governor Warlick and Gen. T. E. Powell were presented in like manner, but just as the name of Gen. G. W. Morgan, the last one on the Payne-Hoadly slate, was about to be presented, Mr. Seward, one of the old-time Democrats and a vigorous speaker, mounted a tribune, and in an eloquent manner moved that the rules be suspended, and that Gen. Durbin Ward be nominated by acclamation. This stamped the convention and was carried.

Blaine and proposed to nominate McLean, and the name of McLean was carried by acclamation, when Gen. A. J. Warner appeared before the footlights and delivered a most eloquent eulogy on Allen G. Thurman, moving to substitute the name of Thurman for that of McLean. This threw the convention into a state of the utmost confusion, and the chair suspended business for some time. Finally it was moved to further amend and nominate both McLean and Thurman by acclamation. This was carried, amid the wildest scenes and demonstrations. The yeas now then rallied to some extent and nominated as the fourth delegate-at-large Jacob Mueller, of Cleveland, Payne-Hoadly and intimate friend. They realize that they have made a bad thing, and in an eloquent manner moved that the rules be suspended, and that Gen. Durbin Ward be nominated by acclamation. Finally it was moved to further amend and nominate both McLean and Thurman by acclamation. This was carried, amid the wildest scenes and demonstrations. The yeas now then rallied to some extent and nominated as the fourth delegate-at-large Jacob Mueller, of Cleveland, Payne-Hoadly and intimate friend. They realize that they have made a bad thing, and in an eloquent manner moved that the rules be suspended, and that Gen. Durbin Ward be nominated by acclamation. This stamped the convention and was carried.

Blaine and proposed to nominate McLean, and the name of McLean was carried by acclamation, when Gen. A. J. Warner appeared before the footlights and delivered a most eloquent eulogy on Allen G. Thurman, moving to substitute the name of Thurman for that of McLean. This threw the convention into a state of the utmost confusion, and the chair suspended business for some time. Adrian Richter, the German artist, died in Dresden, in his 81st year. A bridge at Trenton, N. J., valued at $40,000, was destroyed by fire. The vacant circuit judgeship at Chicago will be tendered to Postmaster General Graham. The banking-house of R. T. & C. B. Harwood at Rome, Ga., closed its doors, with liabilities of $24,000. At the commencement dinner at Harvard college, President Eliot announced that $125,000 had been donated during the year. In San Francisco, William C. Millon killed Albertina Anderson for refusing to marry him, and then took his own life. The remains of Bishop Simpson were taken from San Francisco to his home in Philadelphia, to be buried in the family vault. Four persons were killed and two others mortally wounded by a boiler explosion in the planing-mill of J. C. Smith, at Wausau, Wis. The Illinois state veterinarian visited Elgin, and caused the shooting of three horses afflicted with glanders. Mrs. Benson is dying from the same disease. A partner in the wholesale jewelry house of A. J. Warner & Co., of Minneapolis, has brought suit for a receiver, alleging that the debts are $80,000. The Michigan Central road has passed its July dividend, its net income for six months being only $71,532 after paying the due proportion to the Canada Southern branch. There are 318 suits pending against the Wausau road, involving $2,042,745. Messrs. R. S. Hayes, H. M. Horio, and George Olin are about to resign with the permission of Jay Gould. The directors of the Lake Shore road declared a quarterly dividend at the reduced rate of 6 per cent. per annum. The treasurer reports a decrease of $1,588,271 in the earnings for the past six months. REMARKABLE ESCAPE. John Kuhn, of Lafayette, Ind., had a very narrow escape from death. This is his own story: "One year ago I was in the last stages of consumption. Our best physician gave me up. I finally got so low that our doctor said I could not live more than four hours. My friends then purchased a bottle of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the lungs, which benefited me. I continued until I took nine bottles. I am now in perfect health having used no other medicine. Nothing equals it in efficacy. What, Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the cure of coughs, colds and consumption. Sold by Stearns & Baker.

THE CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD. The Central Pacific Railroad Company will postpone for a time the payment of salaries due employees this month, in order to accumulate funds to meet more pressing demands in the nature of emergency. The present changed condition of the company arises from the falling off of traffic and consequent decrease of profits caused by disasters, especially to the Southern Pacific and its branches. Charles Crocker, president of the Southern Pacific, and second vice president of the Central Pacific, at present attending the Cotton trial at Santa Rosa, was interviewed, and said The Bulletin statement was quite true; we had asked the employees for thirty days' credit. He said, further: "I've heard no grumbling. This is the first time such a deferment has occurred. We've got some pressing demands to meet, and money is so tight it is harder than driving teeth to get any. I can't get more than 25 cents on Southern Pacific bonds. But trying hard to borrow some money, and think I shall be able to get it, but all the money-lenders in the country just now are drawn very tight. I've heard of a Mr. Crocker in a telegram to the Associated Press, says: 'The report of The Bulletin is substantially true, although we have not yet fully determined the matter. Should the market ease, we will pay as usual.'"

CLAIMING THE "ZENITH CITY." St. Paul, June 25.—A notable case is on trial here in the United States district court. It is that of Frederick Prentice vs. the city of Duluth. The case involves almost the entire city of Duluth, the value of the property involved running into the millions. In 1884, by a treaty with the Lapointe band of the Chippewas, the city of Duluth was authorized to select for himself a section of land, which by special provision was to be patented to any one whom he might designate. The section which he chose included all the property now in dispute. The patent, at Duluth's request, was made out in favor of Benjamin G. Armstrong, his son by adoption, who married a niece of Duluth. The defendants claim that it was made out in favor of Frederick Prentice, the plaintiff in the suit, and it is under this that Prentice puts in his claim. Armstrong, subsequent to the time of getting the patent, conveyed the land to other parties, under which conveyance the present occupants hold. There are four test cases now being tried, and if decided for the plaintiff this will be followed by a multitude of others against property owners in Duluth. WHAT PASTOR THINKS OF CHOLERA. PASTOR, June 25.—M. Pasture, the celebrated scientist, in conversation with a reporter, said: "I have no doubt cholera is contagious." "English authorities," ventured the reporter, "admit it is infectious, but deny that it is contagious." "Much confusion in these terms exists," the professor replied. "Where does infection and contagion begin? We are still at fault as to the media by which the disease is transmitted. Perhaps it is through water, perhaps by the atmosphere. I agree with Professor Koch's theory of bacilli, but his existence is not yet scientifically proved." "If you think the disease will spread far?" "If it be the real Asiatic cholera it will spread all over France, doubtless, but with what degree of intensity cannot be predicted. The old notion that such diseases always rage in cycles is exploded. The virus may be of any intensity. I have in my laboratory some cases of rabies nearly innocuous, and some infinitely more terrible than dogs experience. This may be a weak species of professor, in response to a question, expressed his belief in the necessity of quarantine. He attributed the English prejudice against it to their commercial interests. M. MORGAN'S SONS. NEW YORK, June 25.—M. Morgan's Sons, bankers and brokers, who suspended Tuesday, have made an assignment to William H. Dixon. The trustees named in the assignment are: Evans, Sontagmo & Cleverly, lawyers; for professional services, the amount not stated, and William H. Rogers, as administrator of the estate of John Morgan, the amount of the just indebtedness to him not exceeding $14,000. The assignment then directs the payment of all co-partnership debts, and if any proceeds remain, they are to be applied to the payment of the individual indebtedness of the copartners.

WHY HE SHOT HIS SON. Testimony of the Accused in a Cincinnati Murder Case. CINCINNATI, June 25.—In the case of John B. Hoffman, who murdered his two sons, Coroner Muscott testified that he held an interest on the body of Charles Hoffman, and had examined the prisoner. All the records had been destroyed by the late fire, but Hoffman had volunteered the statement before the coroner that the person he had shot was not his son; that he had lain in wait for the boy; that he had also shot another son, but that was an accident; that he had been the time the boy was born that he was a bastard; that he had intended for several years to kill him, and that Mrs. Hoffman was a prostitute. All this was said while he was on the stand, and he was not called by his wife's name, and Robert, called her name. After he shot his son, Hoffman got to drinking, and then he became a worthless man, and furnished no support to the family. Farewell to Moody. LONDON, June 25.—A monster farewell meeting was held at Exeter hall by the friends of Mr. Moody, the American evangelist, whose successful labors here have just been closed. The exercises consisted chiefly of speeches expressing the warmest sympathy with Mr. Moody and his work. Draught in Connecticut. HARTFORD, Conn., June 25.—Connecticut is suffering from a terrible draught. The hay crop is a failure in most parts of the state, and the farmers are hauling water in hoseheads to set tobacco plants with. The draught is telling seriously on crops of all kinds. Moving to Condemned Glodstone. LONDON, June 25.—Sir Stafford Glodstone moved a resolution condemning the Egyptian agreement and loan guarantee, as embodied in the government's conference scheme on the Egyptian question. "Bozents" at Prentice & Evenson's. LAKE OTO. The Volcanic Belt Co., of Marshall, Mich., offer to send Dr. Dye's Colored Volcanic belt and electric appliances on trial, for thirty days, to men, old and young, afflicted with nervous debility, lost vitality, and other diseases. See advertisement in this paper. Avoid Pills.—Being largely composed of mercury they eventually ruin the stomach, but Allen's Electric Physic is a gentle mixture, acts quickly, and effectually cures. 25 cents. At all druggists. "Bozents" at Prentice & Evenson's.

Origin of Ammonia. Ammonia is obtained in large quantities by the putrefaction of the urine of animals.—Encyclopaedia Britannica. Every housekeeper can test baking powder containing this disgusting drug by placing a can of "Royal" or "Andrews' Pearl" top down on a hot stove until heated, then remove the cover and smell. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder does not contain Ammonia, Alkali, Lime, Potash, Bone Phosphates. Prove it by the above test. It is prepared by a Physician and Chemist with special regard to cleanliness and healthfulness.

MATTERS OF NOTE. The Judge Who Doesn't Pay Attention to Technicalities. Comes Very Near Recording Another Sudden Death—Desperate Attempt to Hang a Michigan Murderer.

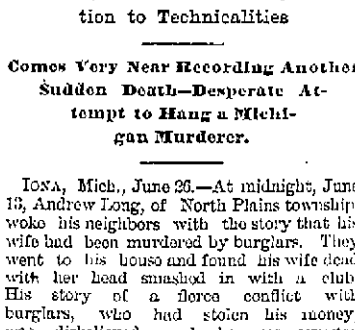

LYNCH BEATEN. If a man is hungry within an hour, more or less, after a meal, he is a dyspeptic. It shows his stomach is not able to dispose of what he has eaten. But to eat and still have more work is an absurdity. Take Dr. J. C. Red Clover Tonic, which cures dyspepsia and all stomach, liver, kidney and bladder troubles. It is a perfect tonic, appetizer, blood purifier, a sure cure for ague and malaria diseases. Price 50 cents, of Stearns & Baker.

TOPEKA, Mich., June 25.—At midnight, June 15, Andrew Long, of North Plains township, was killed by a train. His story is that his wife had been murdered by burglars. They went to his house and found his wife dead with her head smashed in with a club. His story of a fierce conflict with burglars who had stolen his money, was disbelieved, and he was arrested on a warrant issued by Justice Simpson, of Muir. His examination was set for June 25. Upon being placed in jail he confessed the crime, but to legally sentence him it was necessary to prove that he had been murdered. Muir on the day originally set for his examination. Muir is six miles from the county seat. The murder was brutal and unprovoked, and lynchings were feared, though citizens of Muir promised he should not be injured. Long was taken to Muir under an escort of five officers. He waited examination before the justice. When he came out of the courtroom, Nickerson, the murdered woman's brother, accompanied by two neighbors with ropes, and a crowd of the crowd evidently sympathized with them. Men and women yelled, "Hang him! Hang him!" Three times the rope touched his head, but the lynchmen were beaten back and the prisoner taken to the third story of a hotel for security. This scene aroused the passions of lynchmen who called out, the passions of the crowd. The report of the attempt spread like wildfire, and men came pouring in from every direction. In two hours 100 or 200 were in the jail. Prominent citizens were trying to quiet the riot, and others to incite some one to take the lead. The telephone wire was cut to prevent troops being sent for. One man in trying to quiet the crowd vented his wrath on the sheriff, and was nearly killed. Guards were stationed by the mob on every side of the hotel to prevent escape. A telephone message was sent to Ionia for a company of troops to come on a special train, and the sheriff telegraphed to the governor that he had refused to order the troops, and he would take the prisoner to Ionia himself on the 4 o'clock train. At this time an attempt was made to organize a force to attack the hotel in the front and rear, and it was said that the mob were on the way. The prisoner was sure to swing. They evaded this report, concluding to try to capture Long on the way to the depot, which was only twenty rods from the hotel. At 2:30 the militia company, fifty strong, arrived, and marched quickly to the hotel, amid the jeers of the crowd. Gen. Hutchinson formed a part of the troops, and charged bayonets, and cleared the street. Under cover of this movement, the prisoner was brought out, and Capt. Chester directed him to the cars before the crowd discovered what was going on. When they found they were cheated out of their prey, they rushed on the car, and for a time it seemed certain there would be bloodshed, but the train pulled out immediately. Men who hung on the steps and brakes were pushed off at the point of the locomotive. The prisoner is now safe in the jail. Many regret the riot but many more regret the result is all unending. Thinking too many murders have been committed in this vicinity. Long is thoroughly cowed by proceedings and will plead guilty and will make a full confession. The motive for the crime is still unknown. The jail is well guarded and armed. No further trouble is anticipated. The murderer will make no defense nor plead insanity. He is willing and even anxious to go to prison.

WHO'LL TAKE HIM UP? J. I. Case Makes a Proposition—Told and Base Ball Notes. Fire Ladder Killed. NEW YORK, June 25.—Josiah Wallace, a fireman, while trying to save a street car from a fire, slipped and fell to the street, a distance of thirty-five feet, and was instantly killed, his body being terribly mangled. PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—The plecker house of the Glenview mill, Germantown, owned by the estate of John Bromley deceased, was burned. The loss on building is $8,300. Sten & Johnson, woolen yarn manufacturers who occupied the first floor lost $2,550. Henry T. Seaboard, also manufacturer of yarns lost $14,000 and J. H. Bromley who owned a lot of machinery in the building is damaged to the extent of $4,300. The insurance in each is light and will not aggregate more than $100,000. ENO WIP, Probably Get Away. NEW YORK, June 25.—The issuing of the $10,000 check after Enos ceased to be president of the bank, which was about the only strong point the seceder had, has been exploded. A telegram received here from the Union National bank says the check was deposited there on May 13, or prior to the resignation of Eno. Mr. Abbott, a leading Canadian lawyer, has just gone over the whole case at the request of the brother of Eno, and he is of the opinion that there is absolutely no ground for extradition. The Plumber's Lock-Out. NEW YORK, June 25.—The Journeymen Plumbers' union still insist that only 300 of its members were locked out, and that 100 of those have since been taken back to work by master plumbers of the Master Plumbers' association. The strategy of the union is to make the master plumbers have decided to remain firm. Let Them Off Lightly.
